

Friday 6th January 2017

MESSAGE FROM HEADTEACHER:

Dear all,

*Welcome back and Happy New Year to all of you.
All your children have come back full of good spirit.*

Unfortunately both our minibuses are currently in the garage being repaired, so there may be a slight change to timetables but class will keep you informed.

The school rabbits are doing well and enjoyed their Christmas break but are now on diets!

There is a new flow chart on the website for your attention that gives you information if we have a concern about your child. This lets you know our process.

*Have a good week all and please keep in touch if you need anything.
Sarah Llewellyn*

Panto at The Grand Theatre

On Thursday 19th January 2017 the whole school will be going to The Grand Theatre in Wolverhampton to see Aladdin.

Pupils will need to be in school uniform as usual.

Pupils and staff will be transported to the Theatre by coach or school bus at 10am and return to school in time for normal collection/bus services.

Pupils will have lunch on their return to school. They can bring snacks or money for during the performance if you wish. If sending money in please clearly mark the envelope 'Panto'.

There is no coffee morning on Friday 24th February 2017 as this is half term week.

Milk

Letters have been sent home yesterday asking if your child would like milk at school this term.
Please return the slips to school as soon as possible.

Dragonflies

Dragonflies have settled back into class well and all seem very happy to be back at school!

Kingfishers

A lovely start to the term with a trip to find The Stickman, our English text for this half term.
